TUESDAY, MAY 9, 1905.

The average daily circulation of the Barre Daily Times for the week ending Saturday was copies, the largest paid circulation of any daily paper in this section.

3,400

Occasionally an accident reminds us that the species, named horse, has not yet got its bearing entirely with his rival, the automobile. But the accidents are becoming fewer as the beasts are becoming more reasonable.

To say the public appreciated the sprinkling of Main street yesterday would be putting in mild language a portrayal of ebullience of joy. The people no longer eat dirt breath dirt and cart away dirt in their clothing. The germs were fully soaked down.

Who wants "Hon." attached to his name when he doesn't deserve it? We regret to say that there are those who dight here between the smooth-flowing Connecticut and the broad Champlain. It is like the elixir of everlasting joy to them, puffing up, puffing out, and puffing all the way through, until the poor things go up through their lightness.

FORCE OF AN EXAMPLE.

Probably The Barre Times will agree that all manner of laws severely punishing the thoughtless persons that trust young children with firearms cannot put brains and common sense into their heads to begin with and thus prevent the mischief. There may be something of the merit of disciplinary example in such a punitive law, but it does not mend the wrong that has been done. The force and emphasis of public opinion and public authority should be concentrated in some way upon teaching these thoughtless parents their duty before it is necessary to invoke the law upon them for not doing it. A few stitches in time will effect the proverbial economy.—St. Albans Messenger.

The Times does agree with The Messenger that brains and common sense cannot be injected into all persons by means of law enforcement, so that these lamentable firearms accidents can be entirely prevented, but it does believe that the people who have a capacity for thinking will get a reminder of their duty if some cases of disobedience to the law are shown up. A school for instruction of heedless parents and guardians in the proper care of their charges would be an excellent means of preventing some accidents, but that would not do away with the whole difficulty, because the parents themselves are not in all cases responsible for the sad results. Oftentimes the firearms are sold to minors under fifteen years, or furnished, by persons who are neither parents nor guardians. It is against this class of brainless or careless persons (not parents, as The Messenger intimates) that the law recently enacted is directed. Why shouldn't storekeepers, for instance, who sell guns to boys not able to carry them, be punished? Of course, the harm done in a particular case cannot be mended by meting out punishment, any more than can the wound from a murderer's hand be healed through punishing the murderer. But future sales of firearms to minors under fifteen years by that person who is fined will be stopped in all probability, and similar sales by other person will be less.

plenty, if they be not stopped entirely. If such people are taught that there really is a punishment awaiting them they will be less anxious to run the chance.

GOWN GOSSIP.

Solid wreaths of roses trim many of the new hats.

Generally speaking, the leg o' mutton sleeve is the preferred style for street gowns.

Very pretty little directoire jackets, with fancy waistcoats and broad, pointed lapels, appear among spring walking suits.

Children's frocks and coats show the same lavish tendencies which distinguish grownup fashions. Everything is embroidered, lace trimmed and hand wrought.

It has been hinted that pongees in the rougher weaves will not be fashionable. This is true only in a general way. The smoother weaves of this and other silks have a sort of vogue at present, but rough silks will probably hold their own later on.—New York Post.

COLLEGE AND SCHOOL.

According to the last census, Argentina has 4,291 primary schools, with 427,311 pupils. There are two national and three provincial universities.

Professor William C. Estey, Walker professor of mathematics in Amherst college, has resigned. He is a graduate in the class of 1890 and at the close of the current academic year will have completed forty-three years of service with the faculty.

Iowa school boards hold that women become cranky after thirty years of age. As a result of their view on this subject it is found that Hawkeye schoolma'ams now are rarely older than the cranky age, and, of course, a schoolteacher is only as old as she says she is.

Memorial Day at Northfield.

There was a special meeting of Boynton Post on Saturday afternoon and arrangements were made for Memorial day exercises. Committee on memorial exercises, J. L. Moseley and W. W. Holden; post tree, Anson Adams, W. C. Joyce, A. L. Case, W. S. Clark; team committee, Homer Denny; music, L. J. Moseley; financial committee, H. L. Kenyon; committee on programme, John L. Moseley and W. W. Holden. The memorial address to the G. A. R. will be delivered in the Methodist church Sunday, May 23, by the Rev. W. E. Sharp. Johnson will have charge of the exercises in Roxbury. Ritual services will be in charge of the daughters and the sons of veterans. The president of the day is H. W. Hovey; chaplain, the Rev. Walter Dole; orator of the day, J. L. Martin of Brattleboro; marshal of the day, Major F. L. Howe, with authority to appoint 20 aides. The feature of the day will be the living flag, a flag drill by two hundred school children which will be in charge of J. C. Smith. Invitations will be extended to Co. F, V. N. G., and to the corps of cadets of Norwich University to participate in the exercises of the day.

Entertained in Honor of Dillingham.

Congressman D. J. Foster of Burlington, gave a dinner party Friday evening in honor of Senator W. P. Dillingham of Montpelier.

The guests met Senator Dillingham and Congressman Foster at the Van Ness House and after a brief reception of an informal nature the party proceeded to Dorcas cafe, where the banquet was served. Covers were laid for fourteen persons. Those present, in addition to the host and the guest of honor, were Dr. D. C. Hawley, president of the Ethan Allen club, Dr. H. C. Tinkham, Judge C. S. Palmer, Judge E. C. Moore, C. L. Soule, K. C. Herrington, General Manager D. A. Loomis of the Champlain Transportation Co., H. C. Gleason, H. S. Weed, J. H. Middlebrook, Joseph Auld of The News and J. L. Southwick of The Free Press.

After the dinner Senator Dillingham proceeded to the Ethan Allen club rooms where he gave an interesting hour's talk on the territory of Alaska, based on a trip which he made last summer as a member of the Senate committee on territories.

Ball Player Seriously Hurt.

Washington, May 9.—Lave Cross, captain and third baseman of the Philadelphia base ball team, was seriously injured by a ball batted by Frank Huelsman during the game here yesterday. Cross broke the force of the terrific blow with his feet and the ball bounded up into his face and crushed the bridge of his nose, fracturing the bone. For ten minutes he lay bleeding on the field and for an hour and a half it was impossible to entirely stop the flow. It is thought that a small blood vessel was ruptured. Cross' eyes are almost swollen shut and it will necessitate his retirement from the game for some time.

Burr and Burton Victorious.

Burr and Burton seminary won its first home game Saturday by defeating Middlebury high school 7 to 1. The visitors were unable to solve the curves of Burr and Burton's star pitcher, getting only three scratch hits, on one of which combined with the home team's only error they secured their only tally. Evans for Burr and Burton struck out 14 men and allowed one man to walk. For Middlebury, Fisher did good work in the box but received poor support, there being seven errors back of him. The home team secured 15 hits and six men struck out.

The ball team of Bellows Falls Academy which plays Goddard seminary today, defeated Swanton high school Saturday by a score of 17 to 4, in a square game of ball.

One of the Stages.

Over in New Hope, Ark., last week, the farmers of Green county held a meeting of the Educational and Co-operative association for the purpose of electing delegates to the state convention, to be held in Hot Springs. Among the prominent men in attendance was Gen. N. A. Crowley of Independence, who is making the race for railroad commissioner. While the session of farmers was under way a New Hope maid with musical talents in the bud opened up a piano across the way, and began that process known as cultivating the voice.

"For goodness' sake," exclaimed Gen. Crowley, "what noise is that?" "Gently, General," explained Will Burton of Caddo township, who had just been elected one of the delegates. "That noise is from a young lady who is having her voice cultivated." "Cultivated, huh?" said the general, "then it is evident the process of cultivation has reached the harrowing stage."—Memphis Commercial-Appeal.

THE STORY OF AN UNWISE MAN.

A news item now going the rounds of the Vermont press states that a Weston, Vt., man lost $900.00 by the burning of his house recently. He had been saving the money to buy a farm and, not having confidence in banks, had kept the money in the house.

No State in the Union has fewer bank failures than Vermont. Our banks, as a rule, are well and conservatively managed. Yet even in Vermont we occasionally see items similar to the one quoted above.

Perhaps the man with a little surplus money will sometime learn that the safest place for his money is a well managed bank. If there are any people in this vicinity who deposit their money under the floor, or in the traditional stocking, we would suggest that they change their deposit to the Granite Savings Bank and Trust Company, Barre, Vt. Interest paid on savings deposits. Correspondence invited.
